Quality Assurance Analyst, Sr

Category: Exempt
Pay Grade: E22
Job Code: 14665

To perform this job successfully, an individual must be able to perform the essential job functions satisfactorily. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the primary job functions herein described. Since every duty associated with this position may not be described herein, employees may be required to perform duties not specifically spelled out in the job description, but which may be reasonably considered to be incidental in the performing of their duties just as though they were actually written out in this job description.

JOB SUMMARY
Performs professional, tactical, and strategic information technology work which requires an incumbent to produce expert analytical and technical work products in support of ‘hands-on’ end-to-end testing for a range of new and ongoing projects across multiple technology platforms and within an adopted framework methodology. An incumbent will be responsible for advising and guiding lower level staff on the use of testing tools, technologies and approaches to ensure the development and delivery of effective technical testing solutions to meet business objectives and will work in close consultation and collaboration with key project team members and business stakeholders (such as, developers, project managers, business analysts, business unit owners, etc.) and will be required to both gather and translate business requirements into testing solutions, as well as manage their delivery to agreed schedules and budget. The incumbent identifies and resolves complex work problems of a nature that lower level employees are unable to solve or overcome. Work requires creative and original thinking and is performed under the general direction of senior professionals with extensive latitude for individual and team initiative, judgment, and discretion. The incumbent works with customers to determine hardware, software, and system functional requirements to maintain operations and production, as well as achieve business objectives.
