Project Overview

Joe's Creek Greenway Park, recently renamed to the Raymond H. Neri Community Park, is adjacent to the Lealman Community Center in the Central Lealman Area of unincorporated Pinellas County. Pinellas County recently completed a master plan for the park and is moving forward with the initial phases of the park's development. The overall concept of the park will include two multi-purpose fields, a dog park, walking trail, playgrounds, adult fitness area, pavilions, restrooms and a small amphitheater.

The park will be completed in several phases as funding becomes available. Phase 1A will include sidewalks, playground equipment, restroom, a challenge course and an adult fitness area. Phase 1 will include additional parking, multi-use trail, park infrastructure (water, sewer & stormwater treatment), dog parks, open play fields and picnic shelters.

Project Schedule – Next Steps

- Master Plan Start: February 2018
- Master Plan End: December 2018

This project is funded through the Penny for Pinellas program, the County's local infrastructure sales tax, and the Community Development Block Grant.
